FEBRUARY 2022

Nissan Parts & Accessories eCommerce

As we entered the new year, we saw a significant increase in orders compared to the previous year. This was due to the busy holiday shopping season. We fully anticipate a steady increase in the coming months, and we will continue to offer regular promotions to support your program website.

As we work to improve our website, we included a poll in this newsletter to see how you plan on using our website. We encourage you to participate and provide feedback for the future of our website in 2022. This month
